Dr. Alec Holland was a brilliant bio-chemist working on a formula that could bring life to barren wastelands and provide food for a hungry world. His Bio-Restorative formula was kept secret from the world, but not from his enemies. A mad scientist, Dr. Anton Arcane coveted the power that this formula represented. He stole the precious liquid and destroyed Dr. Holland's lab.

The bomb's blast caught Dr. Holland while he was holding his formula. In a crazed rush to extinguish the flames on his body, he dove into the swamp - coated with fire and the formula. What rose from the murky waters was no longer Alec Holland but the towering form of the Swamp Thing!

Now Swamp Thing must stop Arcane from achieving his goal of world conquest by collecting beakers of the bio-restorative formula before Arcane does. All the while he'll battle Arcane's robotic minions. If he succeeds there, Swampy will then tangle with Arcane's ultimate horrors - the mutated Un-Men! Only by defeating these uglies can Swamp Thing restore the ecological equilibrium.

BEGIN THE GAME

Insert the Game Pak into your Nintendo Entertainment System and turn the machine on. The title screen and opening sequence will tell the story behind the game. Press the Start button to begin playing.

The Controls - Use the following controls to guide Swamp Thing through the various levels:

A Button - Press to jump. Hold down longer for a higher jump. Hold down after jumping to make Swamp Thing walk faster. It causes the tree to shake (after Swamp Thing has turned into one). Press also to cycle through text sequences.

BEGIN THE GAME

B Button - Press to throw punches or toss swamp moss projectiles.

Start Button - Pauses/unpauses the game. Use also to skip past movie sequences.

Select Button - Use to make Swamp Thing emerge from a transformation.

Control Pad Functions:

Right or Left - Swamp Thing walks right or left.

Down - Swamp Thing crouches down.

Up - Special Feature! Use to transform Swamp Thing into a tree, or an apple, a tire or a flower (for energy). These organic objects allow Swampy to get to places and weapons that he normally could not reach. The flower is the only object that remains stationary. Transforming costs one energy tick, so you should have at least two energy ticks to make the transformation.

POWER UPS

The following items can be found throughout the game to make it easier for Swamp Thing (and you) to finish his mission:

Swamp Beaker - Contains the bio-restorative formula. This restores one energy tick.

1 up - Gives you an extra life.

Battery - Every 20 batteries collected gives Swamp Thing an extra energy tick. Every 50 batteries collected gives Swamp Thing an extra life.

Swamp Moss - Gives swamp thing 10 moss projectiles. These projectiles do not work against all of Arcane's forces!

Flower - Restores all of Swamp Thing's energy! Swampy MUST transform into a flower to achieve this effect.

ENEMY CHARACTERS

Weed Killer - He lives for the pleasure of destroying any plant life. Swamp Thing is his ultimate goal.

Skin Man - Brought back from the dead by Arcane, Skin Man is a vicious flying zombie! Under Arcane's control, he hunts the Green Guardian.

Dr. Deemo - Arcane transformed a powerful magician into a cobra headed voodoo master. He'll use his poisonous fangs and wicked spells to destroy Swamp Thing!
